Feast of Saint MAROUN

2 Timothy 3:10-17 - John 12:23-30

Our great father, Saint Maroun (4th century)

Maroun was a priest who later became a hermit, embracing a life of solitude. He lived on the top of Mountain (Brad), in the open air, in the north of Aleppo, near Antioch. He is known for converting a pagan temple into a Church and converting the pagans and teaching them about The Lord Jesus Christ.

Maroun spent most of his time in prayer, detached from the materialistic world. He drew many people who sought to live like him, as well as many sick who received healing after he prayed over them. In 452 AD shortly after his death (410 AD), his disciples built a monastery, which they named Beit Maroun (house of Maroun). Saint John Maroun was their first Patriarch who was elected in 685 AD.

In 938 Beit Maroun was destroyed and the Patriarch and many Maronites migrated from Syria to the mountains of Lebanon, where the Maronite Church flourished.

We pray that like Saint Maroun, we are inviting and welcoming, showing the love of Christ to all so that they may be inspired by Him and also seek to be Christ like.
